National Flight Services Joins MU-2 Turboprop Authorized Service Center Group

Lakeland, Florida operation offers many advantages

Lakeland, FL, October 2009 — Mitsubishi Heavy Industries America, Inc. (MHIA) and Turbine Aircraft Services (TAS) welcome Lakeland's National Flight Services of Lakeland, Florida as an Authorized Mitsubishi MU-2 Service center. National Flight Services is well known and respected in the general aviation community, particularly as an Authorized Honeywell Engine Center.

Mitsubishi Heavy Industries America, Inc.'s General Manager of the Aircraft Product Support Division Noel Takayama is delighted with the new service center, "National Flight will be a great addition to the MU-2 service center team. It's close proximity to SimCom in Orlando, Florida will provide service and support to owner/operators during MU-2 flight training."
